Businesses competing for Innovation Through technology have been selected!

The South Wales Chamber of Commerce is pleased to announce the shortlisted candidates for Innovation Through Technology - one of the award categories that form the Chambers of Commerce Business Awards, in partnership with the Western Mail.

This year Cardiff based Life on Show TV, Cardiff based Professional Driver Services and Caerphilly based RUMM Ltd will go head-to-head to compete for the title of Innovation Through Technology.

The Innovation through Technology Award is sponsored by Danwood Wales and the winners will be announced at the Awards Dinner on Friday 24th September at the Mecure Holland House Hotel.

Richard Corkhill, Divisional Sales Director of Danwood Wales group said: "As a leading supplier in office print equipment and technology we are delighted to be sponsoring the South Wales Chamber of Commerce award for innovation through technology.

“The entries received were of a very high standard, however, the finalists impressed us with their innovative ideas in addition to their ability to demonstrate how they have used these new technologies to benefit their business.

“As a sponsor we are delighted to have been able to help judge this award and I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate all three businesses on getting this far.

“We are looking forward to attending the South Wales Chamber of Commerce awards ceremony in September to present the award to the overall winner and celebrate the wealth of talent on offer within the Welsh business community.”

Adam Price, Managing Director of Life on Show TV, said: “As a rapidly expanding new business we are very proud to be nominated for this award. Our product is unique and extremely effective. We have developed the online TV portal to enable businesses of all sizes a piece of the action in the fast moving online media realm.

“To have our work recognised by the South Wales Chamber of Commerce adds to our ongoing success and is proof to our clients and the wider business community that we are taking the company in the right direction: forwards.”

Cardiff based LifeonShow.TV is at the forefront of Video Streaming technology. They provide a unique multi channel online TV portal that enables clients to professionally package and present their video content whilst generating an inward revenue stream. LifeOnShow.TV easily turns organisations into online broadcasting companies.

Kath Bevan, Director of Professional Driver Services, said: “PDS entered the awards with the hope of gaining local recognition for software we have created which has already gained much acclaim nationally in the driver re-education field.

“Atlas is utilised by a large number of Police and Local Authorities to manage their complex administration processes in a cost effective and highly efficient manner.

“PDS are delighted to have been shortlisted for this award. We view the nomination as a formal validation of our employees’ hard work and tireless efforts, required to establish Atlas as the market leading administration system within our industry over the last 4 years.”

Vale of Glamorgan based PDS is a primarily a driver training organisation involved in all areas of driver training including Government backed re-educational courses, risk management consultancy and eco-friendly driver training for businesses, minibus training for schools and the supply of driver related software which has revolutionised administration solutions for many Local Authorities.
